New x-ray machine called for in study physician contends

The need for a new x-ray machine at the Minden Red Cross Hospital is "no new thing", and was taken into consideration in the hospital role study, said Dr. Jeffrey Lodenquai, a Minden doctor. Dr. Lodenquai made the remark in response to the concerns expressed by Dr. Anthony Holliday-Rhodes in a private letter to the executive-director of Red Cross hospitals.

Dr. Holliday-Rhodes stated that he felt the facility should be upgraded, and the nurses at the hospital trained in proper x-ray techniques, or a proper technician employed.

"There is a recommendation for a more powerful machine in the role study," said Dr. Lodenquai. "Up to this point in time, it has served us very well."

He said the machine at the hospital is adequate for routine work such as chest x-rays and x-rays of limbs and skulls. It is not adequate for spine and low-back injuries, because that was not the role it was intended for.

"We realize this, and because we know Haliburton has a good unit, on occasion, we send patients there."

The x-ray machine at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital is capable of x-raying sections of the body the machine in Minden cannot. It has been run by full-time technicians most of its eight-year history.

Minden firefighters vote to accept council's offer

The Minden volunteer firefighters have accepted Anson, Hindon and Minden council's wage raise offer after going nearly 15 years without one.

"The boys have agreed to go with the wage offer," fire chief William Jackson told council at their regular meeting last Wednesday night. At a previous council meeting, Jackson said 90 per cent of the men voted to reject council's offer, which calls for wage increases over two years totalling $3 for the first hour at a fire and a $1.50 for each additional hour.

But Jackson said the men have changed their minds, and 14 men out of the 18-man fire department turned up at a meeting last week to vote on council's offer. Out of that number, 10 voted in favour, and four were against.

The Dysart fire department is the only other force in the county which receives pay. The men are compensated four dollars an hour for fighting fires and a dollar an hour for practice sessions.

The increase will bring wages for Anson, Hindon and Minden firemen at $10 for the first hour and $5 for each additional hour by 1980.

The Thornton Wilder classic play, Our Town, came to Kinmount last Friday and Saturday night, and was well received by most of the persons who attended. Here, Mrs. Gibbs (Michelle Barkwell) and Mrs. Webb (Sandra Brown) have a serious discussion in a scene from the play. For a review and another picture, see page seven.

Minden doctor unhappy about x-ray facilities, recommends changes

A Minden doctor is unhappy with the x-ray facility and its operation at the Minden Red Cross Hospital, and has sent a letter to the executive director of Red Cross hospitals outlining those concerns.

In a private letter to David Turner which was accidentally made public at Anson, Hindon and Minden council meeting last week, Dr. Anthony Holliday-Rhodes said he has "been concerned for some time with the quality of the x-ray equipment at the Red Cross hospital in Minden."

"I have also been concerned about the lack of trained technicians to operate this equipment," Dr. Holliday-Rhodes said.

A copy of the letter was sent to Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve, Sinc Nesbitt care of the municipal office. The letter was meant to be private, but was opened and read at council, apparently by mistake.

In the letter, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes outlines three main reasons why he has found it necessary to repeat x-rays in the past, taken on the Minden hospital's equipment by Minden nurses.

In some cases, the letter says, nurses have "decided to x-ray a different part of the patient other than, or as well as, the one requested."

Asked to elaborate on the statement, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes cited a specific instance when he requested an x-ray of a fracture, and the area x-rayed was larger than necessary. He said it had happened "on a few occasions."

Second concern expressed in Dr. Holliday-Rhodes' letter is that in some cases, "bad positioning (of the patient) has prevented diagnostic films."

"In these cases, I have had to personally re-x-ray the patient, wasting my valuable time and exposing the patient to excess radiation."

Later, in an interview, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes said this has happened "a minimum" of three times.

A former radiologist, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes said he has noticed instances in the past in which the machine has malfunctioned. The letter to the Red Cross official cites as the third major area of concern, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes contention that "the machine itself malfunctions in that the exposure settings are incorrect."

He said in an interview later that the settings on the machine "are always too low, and don't always correspond with the amount of radiation that comes out."

The machine is normally serviced every six months, and is nearing time for another inspection, according to a hospital official.

Dr. Holliday-Rhodes also said in the letter that he and Dr. D. C. Pitt, a radiologist in Lindsay with whom Dr. Holliday-Rhodes worked before coming to Minden, offered to give the staff some training in the taking of x-rays.

"The Head Nurse, apparently refused Dr. Pitt's offer," the letter states. In a telephone interview Friday, Dr. Pitt said he could not recall having made the offer of instruction to the Head Nurse directly.

"I don't know if there was direct contact at all. If there was it must have been some time ago, and I just would be unable to say yes or no."

"It's not something that I would have laid much stress on or emphasis," Dr. Pitt said.

Dr. Holliday-Rhodes said he had relayed the offer of instruction from Dr. Pitt to Head Nurse, Mrs. Jean Anderson, but that the offer was refused "on two occasions."

Mrs. Anderson said she had "no comment" about Dr. Holliday-Rhodes' statement, but added that to her knowledge, "no Red Cross nurse has received any formal x-ray training." Nurses currently receive only basic operating instruction of the x-ray machine. Extra training, she said, would have to be arranged through the head office in Toronto.

Director says study to begin in two weeks

Red Cross investigating claim

The Canadian Red Cross will review the x-ray facilities in Minden hospital, and will compile the results in a report in about three weeks, according to the executive director of Red Cross hospitals.

"The hospital board is looking into questions of safety regarding equipment, the equipment to do the kind of job that needs to be done (at the hospital) and the level of skills that presently exist there," said David Turner.

An investigation into the hospital facilities has been planned from some time said Turner, but was recently accelerated by a letter of concern sent to Turner by Dr. Anthony Holliday-Rhodes. The letter, which was accidentally made public at a meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council last week expressed a number of concerns about x-ray facilities at the Minden hospital.

Turner said the investigation is expected to begin within the next two weeks.

A final report will be compiled by the investigating team, and will include recommendations.

"I sure feel if a need for a new x-ray machine is demonstrated we will do what we can to ensure one is obtained."

Ministry of Housing has no objections to proposed Terrelac Properties Ltd. subdivision

Cottagers angry over development

A newly formed organization of cottagers on Minden Lake will try to block a development that would see at least 31 new lots created on the lake.

The Minden Lake Cottagers Association was formed just two weeks ago after a proposed zoning change for the area of the development was circulated among property owners.

The zoning change, from residential to seasonal residential, is the final obstacle in the way of the development by Terrelac Properties Ltd. of Toronto on Part Lot 6, Concession 3, and Part Lots 6 and 7, Concession 4, Minden Township.

Terrelac's plan was first brought to council more than two years ago, and called for the construction of close to 100 permanent homes on the site. The plan was subsequently revised to create 33 lots of between 28,000 and 30,000 square feet each. In its revised form, the plan has received draft approval from the Ministry of Housing, and has been circulated to more than 30 government departments, including the Ministry of Natural Resources, without objection. It was also included, again without objection, in the county's recently adopted Development Strategy.

But the majority of the 93 property owners in the area think the development would put too great a stress on the lake both environmentally and from the point of view of boater and swimmer safety. And in an effort to block it, more than 40 Minden Lake Property owners have sent letters of objections to the Ontario Municipal Board.

Sunday, the 60 member association met with Anson, Hindon and Minden council to discuss the proposed development, and the property owners' objections.

Bern Berry of Scarborough president of the association, said in a telephone interview Monday that the owners feel "council has erred in even thinking of a development of this size."

"We think council, for the sake of a few tax dollars, is going to spoil the lake," Berry said.

Berry said the group's biggest concern with the proposed development is "environmental". Increased boater traffic from new cottages would create a significant hazard, Berry said, adding that the 131 acre body of water is really "just a river".

Environment ministry plans local cottage pollution survey

Cottagers and permanent residents on Lake Kashagawigamog, Miskwabi Lake, and Big Eson Lake can expect a visit from Ministry of the Environment workers sometime between June and September of this year. The visits are part of the Ministry's annual cottage pollution survey, and should give property owners on all three lakes an indication of whether or not they are contributing to a lessening of water quality.

Primary purpose of the surveys, which began in 1967 and have examined a total of 32 lakes in Muskoka and Haliburton in the past 12 years, "is to locate and correct faulty sewage disposal systems and practices which could be a source of pollution," according to the Ministry.

Past surveys have shown that only 15 per cent of the systems checked are in excellent working order, while 28 per cent fall into the "seriously substandard" category. The remainder fell somewhere in between these two classifications, and required some work to bring them up to acceptable standards.

The surveys of Miskwabi and Big Eson Lake were requested by the respective cottagers associations. The survey of Kashagawigamog is being made on the Ministry's initiative.

Students are expected to be used for the bulk of the survey work, and will travel from cottage to cottage by boat. Each will carry a government identification card which will be produced upon request.

Besides details about ownership of the property, and the number of occupants by season, the survey team will note methods of disposal for wash water, human waste, laundry waste and household garbage. They will also note details of plumbing, location, age and size of septic tank, tile bed, well, leaching pit, cesspool, pit privy, etc. topography of the lot, with details of soil cover, soil type, depth to water table, and other information. Finally, the surveyors will note the source of drinking water and will take samples for laboratory testing. Owners will be notified of the results of the water testing by mail.

Struck by log, Gooderham man dies

An 18 year old Gooderham man was killed Friday morning in a logging accident off County Road #7.

Gary Travis died when he was struck on the head by a log. Police say Travis was working on top of a partial load of logs which were on a truck. He was apparently straightening the load with a canhook when he lost his balance and fell to the ground. A log rolled off the truck and struck him on the head.

Coroner Dr. H. E. Good pronounced Travis dead at the scene. There will be no inquest into the accident, and no post mortem was held.

There were some fine works of art and crafts on display at the annual Victoria County Spring Festival of the Arts at Cobocok Monday afternoon, and some talented people, such as Marjorie Downes pictured above, demonstrated how they complete their works. She was constructing seed pictures of various sketches she had completed.

Minden curlers anxious over possible delay of new arena

Unless the Minden Curling Club gets some funding to start building a new curling arena very soon, village curlers may not have a facility to play in by next winter.

That fact was raised at the regular evening meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Wednesday. Jim Garbutt, president of the Minden Curling Club, told council that if the curling club project is not started soon, "there'll be nothing done for next winter."

The present curling rink, which was built in 1961, does not meet Ministry of Labour safety regulations. It was kept open this winter under careful monitoring of snow loads, but will not be used next year unless repairs are completed at an estimated cost of $60,000 to $70,000.

A letter to the club from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation requested input from council, asking if the curling club could support a new rink. A new facility would cost approximately $275,000, and would be eligible for two for one Wintario funding.

The club obtained cost estimates for a feasibility study from three consulting firms, and the lowest received was from Totten, Sims and Hubicki at a cost of $600. Wintario funding will pay for half of the sum. Two applications, one requesting the actual Wintario funding and the other requesting the funding for the feasibility study will be submitted by the club. The study would determine if the community can raise approximately $200,000 in public funds that would be needed to complete both the arena and the library/museum complex currently being planned.

As for the location of the proposed arena, Garbutt said, in his opinion, it should be built apart from the community centre so the club would not be responsible to the municipality for running it. Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said there will be some controls

Sinc Nesbitt, Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve, fired the shot that officially marked the opening of the Haliburton County Marksmen Club Shooting Range on Sunday. The day was partially overcast and somewhat bothersome with blackflies, but at least 30 people were on hand for the range's debut.

A number of local dignitaries attended the opening of the Haliburton County Marksman Club Shooting Range on Sunday afternoon. In addition to John Eakins, Bill Scott and Jim Harrison, the entire Anson, sketch of each property, noting the location of and details about the cottage, well, shoreline, septic system or leaching pit.

Information collected is examined by an Environmental Officer, who determines if corrections are necessary. If they are, the officer visits the property owner at the cottage site to discuss the problem and "to advise on a safe and economical solution", according to the Ministry.

"For normal problems," the Ministry says, "a signed agreement form will be completed, showing the correction required and the date completed."

Minimum disposal system required at any cottage, even one without running water, is a leaching pit and privy, the Ministry says. Cottages with running water are required to have a proper tile bed system unless minimum water usage is practised, and no waste water can be disposed of at ground level.

"Correcting such common practices makes up more than half the work load of the cottage survey abatement staff," the Ministry says.

of the x-rays from the Minden Red Cross Hospital, Dr. Pitt, who receives all of the x-rays coming into Lindsay from the hospital, said "I would say certainly many of the films that are submitted could be improved upon...the quality could be improved upon. I don't think there's any doubt about that. Mind you, the quality of films taken in many larger centres can be improved upon too."

"But as far as the quality of the films submitted, I'd say yes, in many instances, or in some instances, improvement could certainly be accomplished." When asked if the films needed a large amount of improvement, Dr. Pitt said "Oh yes, there's always room for improvement. I would say in many instances they could definitely be improved."

In regards to what aspects could be improved with the taking of x-rays at the hospital, Dr. Pitt said "I think that's something I should discuss with the Head Nurse." Improvement could be accomplished, he said, through instruction from those "more involved in this field. We'd be more than happy at any time to help out if so requested."

For these reasons and because recent publicity concerning the harmful side-effects of x-ray machines, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes said later in the letter that "I am now, ever more reluctant than before to send any of my patients for x-rays to the Minden hospital. However, necessity forces me to do so. Indeed, some patients are refusing themselves to go for x-rays locally in Minden due to the recent adverse publicity concerning radiation from diagnostic x-rays, and I can't say that I blame them."

In the latter half of the letter, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes made a number of suggestions and recommendations to rectify the situation.

The first suggestion outlined in the letter advises the "installation of a new x-ray machine incurring minimal delay."

"This machine should be capable of x-raying abdomens and spines because, although we are not equipped for surgery of a major type, the amount of these kinds of x-rays required to be taken is quite large...Should they (patients) require surgery, they can then be referred at that point to a larger centre, together with their x-rays and an x-ray report."

Dr. Holliday-Rhodes said later in the letter that "it is no excuse to say that we do not have trained technicians, therefore we should not have a better x-ray machine, since we require trained technicians as a matter of urgency in order to operate any type of x-ray machine. Perhaps two or three of the nurses should be sent for this additional training?"

The reason Dr. Holliday-Rhodes has waited until this particular time to announce his concerns to the Red Cross, "is because of the national concern of x-ray machines," said Mrs. Holliday-Rhodes in an interview Friday.

"We want to be told there's nothing wrong," Mrs. Holliday-Rhodes added, referring to the technical information about the machine which is being sent to the Radiological Research Laboratory at the University of Toronto.

The data is being gathered by Dr. Holliday-Rhodes, and will be forwarded to the laboratory for assessment.

Statements 'create wrong impression'

Prior to the technicians, untrained nurses operated the machine.

"Technicians would be ideal here," said Dr. Lodenquai. "But when we operate within the limit of the machine and when you consider the limited film of the machine, we don't need a specialist and the girls have been doing very well so far."

Dr. Holliday-Rhodes, in the letter, stated that he has had to repeat x-rays, thus "exposing the patient to excess radiation," because of malfunctions by the machine or improper positioning by nurses.

Dr. Lodenquai agreed that some x-rays have had to be repeated, "but these are in the minority."

He feels the concerns expressed by Dr. Holliday-Rhodes, "are creating the wrong impression."

Dr. Lodenquai added that comments by Dr. Holliday-Rhodes concerning x-rays of different parts of the body "is a very unfair statement to make."

As far as the present conditions go, Dr. Lodenquai said there must be an effort made to work within the limitations of the Hospital.

Car goes out of control, strikes rock face near Miners Bay

Man slightly hurt in single car crash

A Willowdale man was slightly injured last Wednesday when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a rock face.

Minden OPP say David R. Weston, 27, was northbound on Highway 35 north of Miners Bay at about 11:15 p.m. when his car went out of control, entered the east ditch and struck a rock face.

Weston suffered minimal injuries in the crash. Damage to his 1976 car was estimated at $2000.

Damage was set up $3000 last Thursday in an accident in which a van left the road and struck a tree.

Minden OPP say a van driven by Douglas Counter, 25, of Newmarket was northbound on Big Hawk Lake Road when it met a southbound vehicle driven by Amos Brubacher, 60 of Minden.

Counter's van entered the east ditch and struck a tree, resulting in the damage.

There was no damage to Brubacher's vehicle and no charges were laid.

A parked car suffered extensive damage in Harcourt last Friday night or early Saturday morning when it was struck by another vehicle, which fled the scene.

Police say a car owned by Bernard Wuyck of Whitney was parked on the lot of Ridgeview Shell when it was struck on the left side by an unknown vehicle.

The incident occurred between 10 p.m. and 8 a.m. May 25 - 26.

Damage to the parked car was estimated at $2,500.

Clear the air

A letter from Minden doctor Anthony Holliday-Rhodes which was sent to Red Cross Hospitals director David Turner was accidentally made public last week. It contains a number of serious allegations about the x-ray machine at Minden Red Cross Hospital, and about its use. While the letter has now become a matter of public record, and while it raises a number of unavoidable questions, it should not, in itself, be taken as evidence either of problems with the x-ray machine or of a potential threat to patients asked to undergo an x-ray at the hospital.

The letter charges that "the machine itself malfunctions in that the exposure settings are incorrect", and that in some cases x-rays have been improperly taken and have had to be repeated "Exposing the patient to excess radiation."

Both points deserve careful examination. The x-ray machine at the Minden hospital is serviced every six months, and is due for service in the very near future, according to a hospital official. If the machine is malfunctioning, the problems are likely to be spotted during servicing. While Dr. Holliday-Rhodes is unquestionably in a position to know more about the machine's effectiveness and its safety than is the general public, his letter to hospital's director David Turner contains no technical information to substantiate the malfunctioning claim. Only careful examination of the machine by experts will reveal to what extent it needs adjustment, and to what extent it has not been performing up to its design standards.

Second point is that having to repeat an x-ray no doubt exposes a patient to extra radiation. The word 'excess' however, implies a degree of risk which may not in fact be present in routine circumstances.

The whole matter of the x-ray machine and the training of nurses will now be examined by a team of experts appointed by the Red Cross Hospitals Board. Their findings are sure to be of interest to everyone who makes use of the hospital, or who is likely to do so in the future. That study is expected to be completed in about three weeks.

In the meantime however, there would seem to be no proven reason for concern about the hospital's x-ray machine.

Studying the matter in detail, as the hospitals director has said he will do, is the best way to clear the air, and to ensure that the hospital will continue to run as smoothly and as efficiently in the future as it has in the past.

New and needed

This Sunday marked the official opening of Haliburton County's first shooting range. It was an opening that capped months of work by the executive of the newly formed Haliburton County Marksmen club, and that illustrated what can be accomplished through cooperation between a club and a council, in this case the council of Anson, Hindon and Minden. And whatever personal feelings people may have about guns, there is no question that the formation of a club and the establishment of a range can only be beneficial, both to those involved and to those who do not wish to take an active part in the club.

Firstly, and most obviously, the club will bring together people with a like interest to enjoy a recreational activity. It is a club that will not know village or township boundaries, and because its membership is open to one and all, it may serve, in a small but significant way, to foster friendships and acquaintances among people from various county communities. And when rivalry and discord are not infrequently the hallmark of relations between the people of one community and another, the opening of avenues for friendship is an important event.

Secondly, the club will provide an opportunity for people to spend a part of their leisure hours engaged in an activity they enjoy. Opportunities for unconventional recreation are limited in Haliburton County, and the club should be welcomed for presenting a new alternative.

Thirdly, the club will open the doors for people to learn the challenge and the satisfaction of competitive shooting. Canada is often criticized because it does not present enough chances for competitors to hone their skill, and because it does not attract new athletes to competitive ranks in sufficient numbers to ensure international success. If anyone in Haliburton County has visions of competing in the Olympics, it just may be that target or skeet shooting will give them that chance. And the club ensures that the opportunity to perfect the art of shooting will be there for those who want to avail themselves of it.

The Haliburton County Marksman Club is a welcome addition to the county. With continued cooperation between its members, council, and the citizens of Haliburton County, it should be around for a long time to come.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The third annual Festival of Fun has come and gone. No doubt, the festival is only possible because of the many talented individuals and groups who perform voluntarily, and those who in any way make the event known to the county at large. The Scouting groups of Carnarvon, Haliburton and Minden wish to extend a special appreciation to whoever were involved, especially the following persons: The Minden Beavers and their leaders - Mary Lou Johnson, Michael Wooden and Jamie Wooden; Graham Neville and Steve Bugden; Al Blanchard, Bob Long and Neil Howe; Lisa Teatro; Ted and Kathy Granger; Darlene Freeman, Michael Varty and Allan Cooper; Earl Cooper; Bill Gliddon and his choir members; Phil O'Reilly and Melissa Stevens; Laura Aymong and her gymnasts; Marilyn Stouffer and her choir members; Shirley Rydman and members of her skit; the Barnhart sisters of Carnarvon; and the M.C. of the festival, Terry Barnum, Haliburton Scout leader. The success of the festival is directly attributable to these performers, and to many others who assisted with arranging and advertising this special annual event.

The Festival of Fun is proving to be an enjoyable experience within our county. It is not just another Haliburton County event but a special opportunity to bring together the county's Scouting groups, county artists, and county residents in an evening of good entertainment and fun.

An added benefit to the festival is the receiving of funds for a worthy county charity. From the free-will donations and the sale of refreshments, $144 were obtained this year. This sum of money will be given to the newly formed Haliburton County Chapter of the Ontario Association for Children with Learning Disabilities.

The festival committee is wanting to involve talented persons from the various communities within the county. Each year we shall be looking for new and different talent. The Scouting groups would like to hear about such persons and groups who may be available for future festivals. Sooner or later they will have the chance to share their artistic abilities with the other residents of this county through their participation in the Scouts' Annual Festival of Fun.

For some people, having "one of those weeks" means living through a week where nothing goes right. But for me, and for reporter Joe Banks, having "one of those weeks" means having seven days in which we find at least one interesting story that takes a little digging, and that gives us a little pleasure in the writing. A good week from a news point of view is far rarer than those barren weeks when we sit back in our chairs, grab the hair on our heads until it begins to hurt a little, and say "what are we going to make a newspaper out of this week?" For the fact is, that much of the time Joe and I spend making this newspaper every week (and the cumulative total is always substantially more than 40 hours each), we spend trying to come up with ideas that will give us enough words to fill the space we have to fill. And because that space varies depending on the amount of advertising, we never quite know how much to write, how many features to seek out, how many events in communities across the county we'll have to get to if we are to have the pictures and stories we'll need to fill the pages we'll face on Tuesday. It can be a frustrating and exasperating situation. And not infrequently, we feel we've created a monster by setting certain standards for ourselves, and by wanting to put out a newspaper that is as interesting, entertaining and informative as we can make it.

This week, though, was different. At the start of the week, which for us is Wednesday, the prospects for news looked bleak. The only sure news source was a meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council. But experience has taught both of us that council meetings can't always be relied upon for a wealth of interesting news. It turned out, however, that last Wednesday's council meeting contained something of a bombshell in the form of a letter from a Minden doctor to the reeve. Though it was intended to be a private letter, it was inadvertently made public. That meant we had a "good" story (one that is important and controversial), but it also meant we had to face the possibility the story would not be well received. It is a possibility of which weekly newspaper editors and reporters are acutely aware.

The risk of raising readers' ire is much more acute for weekly editors than it is for those who work for dailies. And the reason is obvious. The stories that make the pages of daily newspapers seldom touch the lives of the average person very much. In an indirect way they do, no doubt, but unless a story is about your mother or your brother or your boss, you're not likely to get too upset by what it reports. In a weekly, however, all of the stories touch people you know, or revolve around issues of concern to you or your neighbours in a broad sense. And as a result, the risk that a story will be misread or misunderstood, or that it will contain details someone thinks shouldn't have been included, is ever present.

That doesn't stop us from writing the stories of course. If it did, there would very likely be no newspaper. Certainly there wouldn't be a newspaper, either in Haliburton County or

The federal election is over and the people of Canada have spoken. After looking over the results it became quite evident that the people wanted a change. We now have a new Conservative minority government with a new Prime Minister Joe Clark. For many they were overjoyed with the results while those who voted the other way are dejected. One thing that we must remember and that is that no matter what our political affiliation may be, that when elections are held, one must always be ready to except defeat. This is one great thing about our democratic system we have the opportunity to vote a government in or vote them out. We should all be proud that we live in a great country such as Canada and we should all get behind whatever party is in power to help them out. We should all be proud that we live in a great country such as Canada and we should all get behind whatever party is in power to help them keep this country great. Now that the election is over I would like to reflect back on the campaign and state a few changes that I would like to see made in future provincial and federal elections. Election campaigns that run for two months are just way too long. It's not fair to the leaders of the parties and it's not fair to the candidates. In other words we are wearing them out. And how about the voters who after listening to the political pitches for eight weeks become bored with the same old line day after day on TV, radio and in the media. Let's cut the campaign to a month. We are told that the reason the campaign has to run for two months is to give the officials time to do the enumerating. There must be an easy and faster way of doing this than is being presented in the present system. Our congratulations to Bill Scott who was returned for his 5th term in Haliburton, Victoria and Georgina Riding, to all of the other winning candidates from all parties and to the new Prime Minister Joe Clark.

There are four young people who are very happy this week and they have a good reason to be. They are the recipients of the Allsaw Pentecostal Church Sunday School prize for a trip to Niagara Falls and Marine Land and Game Farm. The four youngsters are Michelle McKnight, Camela Acero, Darren Warburton and Colin McKnight who brought the most visitors to Sunday School between January and the end of April and their work paid off. They will be leaving on May 26th on a trip that many would like to make.

Here's a definition of summer - That time of the year when the highway authorities close the regular roads and open up the detours.

Some people are of the opinion that all the members of the Rotary Club do is sit around, eat and have a sing song. Nothing could be further from the truth. All one has to do is to look around Minden, Haliburton and surrounding areas to see all the wonderful work both the Minden and Haliburton clubs accomplish. For the benefit of all I would like to fill you in on the object of Rotary. The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster: First - The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service; Second - High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society; Third - The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life; Fourth - The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Evelyn Hosgood from Burnaby, B.C. and Jack Austin of Battle Creek, Michigan, are visitors of their brother Orval Austin in Haliburton. They have also been visiting with their mother, Margaret Austin, who is 95 years of age and a resident of Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home in Minden. Good too see you back folks.

We have just been informed that Dr. Fern Rahmel of Peterborough who is the District Director of the Canadian Rose Society will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Minden and District Horticultural Society which will be held at the municipal building in Minden on Tuesday evening, June 5, starting at 7:30 p.m. A large crowd is expected to attend to hear this most interesting speaker.

Rotarian John Beachli of John Beachli Construction and Enterprises Ltd. at Haliburton was a recent guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. John told the club that although he will still be active in his business, he is going to turn some of the responsibility over to his partner John Robinson and this will give him more time to devote to his family and to Rotary. He outlined some of the changes that should be taken into consideration on the Rotary side of the new proposed park on Head Lake. He also urged all the members to buy Haliburton and to support local contractors who are employing local men. His talk was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present at the meeting.

The Township of Glamorgan will hold a Public Information Open House regarding a comprehensive Zoning By-law on Monday, June 11, 1979, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. local time in the council chambers. John McDermott, Senior Planner, Totten, Sims, Hubicki Associates Ltd. will be present to discuss the by-law with interested persons.

The great Connie Mack once said "I've seen boys on my baseball team go into slumps and never come out of them, and I've seen others snap right out and come back better than ever." I guess more players like themselves than are ever licked by an opposing team. The first thing any man has to know is how to handle himself.

Pic of the Past

This is the time of year that the local hockey clubs hold their year end banquets. This is why we thought that this photo of a Haliburton Huskies hockey banquet at Drag Lake Lodge would be appropriate to put in this week's Pic of the Past. The banquet sponsored by Bill and Bert Curry was held in 1947. Front row from the left, Rev. Tom Rutherford, Clayton W. Hodgson, Bert Curry, Dr. Harry Bishop, Dr. L. H. Carroll, Jack Austin. Second row from the left, Bill Curry, Tom Chambers, Harold Black, Dick

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

There was a 67 percent increase in the number of drivers and passengers killed on Ontario roads in the first three months of this year, and the government plans a road surveillance and advertising blitz. From January 1st to March 31st, there were 211 fatalities, compared with 126 for the same period last year. The minister stated there's no apparent reason for the increase, except that there were more multiple death accidents. Total deaths, including pedestrians and cyclists, were 270 compared with 198 for the same period last year, an increase of 36 percent. The minister stated the figures represent a "complete turn around" from declining figures which followed introduction of mandatory seat-belt legislation and lower speed limits three years ago. Since cars are now built to more exacting safety standards, "one thing is obvious, and it's that these grim statistics point to Ontario's drivers as the culprits." In 8th percent of the fatal accidents, there was no alcohol involved, no mechanical defect, and no snow or ice on the road. Regardless of views expressed to the contrary, in 1978, out of 27,275 unbelted drivers involved in accidents, 336 were killed. Out of 258,578 belted drivers in accidents, only 154 died.

Men separated from wives and children in Ontario probably will owe more than $38 million in back payments for child support by the end of 1978/79 fiscal year. Statistics compiled by the family court for 1977/78 show the accumulated arrears to be $32.9 million, up by more than $6 million from the previous year. A further $6 million increase during this fiscal year is expected. The Minister of Community and Social Services "staggered by the amount", places the blame in large part on too lenient judges. Liberal critic Paul Blundy (MPP for Sarnia) believes the government should make concerted efforts to collect this money "if it is really serious about practicing (fiscal) restraint."

The government continues to be under attack by opposition parties on the subject of x-ray hazards, following the recent disclosure in a University of Toronto report that excessive radiation exposure from x-rays is causing 20 cases of leukemia a year in Ontario. Charging that the government has allowed its x-ray inspection service to dwindle to only nine employees, Liberal leader Stuart Smith accused the Ministry of Health of being "secretive" about its inspection program and not taking the safety issue "at all seriously". "It seems," he said, "that the ministry only becomes concerned when this sort of thing is public knowledge." The minister replied that Ontario is "further ahead than any other jurisdiction in eradicating a very serious problem", stating the inspection team has been reduced by only one with another being transferred to the Ministry of Labour in 1976 when Labour was given responsibility for non-medical radiation safety.

elsewhere, that believed in treating everyone fairly and objectively.

That doesn't mean though, that stories are written with a "tell the facts no matter what" attitude. On the contrary, one of the main functions of the editor, even more than a reporter, is to make judgements about what must be said and what should be held back or downplayed because it might do more harm than good.

And this week's story on the Minden hospital is a good example. Though we had a copy of the letter in question, we did not use all that it said. We left out those references to people which would have done no good, and which could have added fuel to what is already a controversial issue.

We reported the facts because we strongly believe that is what we're here for. But we did it knowing full well that some would read the words and say "the Echo said", when in fact the Echo (and the distinction is vital) merely reported what other people said in as logical and balanced a way as possible.

It was one of those weeks for us, in which we knew we had a story that was worth writing, and in which we knew we would hear about the story once it appeared in print.

This time though, we hope there's a difference. We hope that if there is something that displeases you, you'll give us a call. I'd welcome the chance to talk to you about what the hospital story, or any other story in this week's paper says, or does not say, if you are displeased. Ask for me at 457-1037. I'm here to write the news and editorials and to put the paper together, but I'm also here to explain how and why it's done. Give me a call. Seriously.

Bill Smiley

There are a lot of depressed people in the world, for one reason or another: illness, mental or physical; poverty; insecurity; unrequited love; hemorrhoids - you name it.

It's difficult for me to understand depression since I have a natural tranquility, and sometimes even a spot of ebullience. This is either from genes or good luck, and I'm not bragging about it.

Sometimes, when I feel a bit of ebullience coming on, which is almost every day, I have to take something for it, just as the depressed person has to take an elevator pill to get out of the gloom.

If I come down in the morning feeling fairly ebullient, I take a small downer to get me down with the normal level of misanthropy. I pick up the morning paper.

This depresses me sufficiently that I can get through the day without driving my colleagues and students silly with sheer cheerfulness.

If my ebullience starts to build up during the day, after several brilliant lessons, the solving of some teachers' frantic problems, and the crafty evasion of the latest edict from the administration, I have to take something to cool me down when I get home from work. So I pick up the evening paper.

This depresses me sufficiently that I can go to bed without chuckling myself awake at the folly of mankind. If the evening paper doesn't cool me out enough, I listen to the late news and go to the sack with the dense gloom that ensures sleep, the only escape from it.

There's nothing to quiet your jolliness like some of these items. "Board To Fire 214 Teachers," when your only daughter, with three degrees and two children, is in her first year of teaching, and bound to be one of the casualties.

Or this one: "Cancer Doooms Miners." "Lung cancer deaths among hard-rock miners are almost double those of men in other jobs." I knew this 35 years ago. So did the mines. So did the government. So what has been done in the interval?

How about, "Food Costs May Soar." That's about as startling as reading, in November, "Winter May Come." They have already soared out of sight. The headline should have read "Rocket" instead of "Soar". There's nothing to take the extra ebullience out of a fellow like news stories that tell us Canada's nuclear plants are not all that safe, or that the country is 60 billion or something dollars in debt, or that your property taxes are going up 10 per cent this year.

No, I don't know what I'd do without the media. I'd probably spring out of bed in the morning, singing gaily.

"Here hath been dawning Another new day. Think! Wilt thou let it Slip uselessly away?"

I'd probably come chortling downstairs and cook up a big breakfast of bacon and eggs and real coffee instead of my usual tea and peanut-

"Lovers" Quilt to be Raffle

The beautiful hand stitched quilt created for the Chamber by the talented ladies of the Eagle Lake Association, is now to be the feature prize in a draw to be held by the Chamber. The draw for the quilt will be held at the County Fair in Minden on August 12.

The original intention of having this quilt made was to raffle it off in this manner. There was, however, some considerable thought to this idea once the finished product was seen and had proved so highly effective as a centerpiece for this year's display at the Toronto Sportsman Show. Although many of us do not wish to give up this beautiful prize we are now going ahead as planned. Tickets have been distributed along with pictures of the quilt to all the directors of the Chamber who in turn will be locating distribution points in their specific areas. There is a limited number of tickets and they are only a dollar a piece, so don't miss out, get yours today.

Maps For Sale

For the past two summers the Chamber has distributed an extremely popular and colourful road map of the County of Haliburton. This year that same road map on a slightly reduced scale has been incorporated into the Chamber's directory. In view of this there were some reservations as to whether we should continue to publish this popular map since it was available in the book. In talking about this to some of our members we find many feel there is a very definite need for the road map brochure as it now exists. On the other hand it is now common practice to charge a small fee for road maps and it was felt that this would be quite acceptable.

In order to allow the Chamber to use the funds that would otherwise be required to produce this map for other valuable promotional endeavours, the Chamber will now be selling these maps. The new maps will be imprinted with a 25 cents retail price on the front and a space provided for the members name stamp. They will be distributed to members at the Chamber's costs.

Really Big Show at Stanhope

The Stanhope Airshow - Fly-in has been getting bigger and better every year and this year they have taken a giant leap. The show has now been expanded to unofficially cover two days. On Saturday, June 9th many of the participants will be on hand practising some of their displays and competing in minor competitions. It will be a relaxed atmosphere and will be followed Saturday evening with a Fly-in Dance at the Stanhope Firefighters Hall. On Sunday things will really get serious and over 120 airplanes are expected to take part. Highlight of the day will be the "Canadian Reds", Canada's top aerobatic team flying two Pitts Specials. The parachute school of Toronto is sending parachute jump teams, an armed forces display, and a model radio controlled plane exhibition will all entertain the crowds. In addition to the giant beef barbeque that the airport committee has become famous for, the Kinsmen will also be providing hot snacks from their lunch wagon. It's got to be the best deal of the year, because for all this entertainment you pay only $1.00 per car for parking. The dance is only $4.00 per person including a delicious buffet. Tickets for the dance are available through all members of the airport committee and at Stinson's Store, Carnarvon Lumber and Welch's Store.

More "What's New"

There are so many new developments taking place on our local business scene that it is becoming impossible this year to keep up. For instance, we missed the grand opening of "The it's up to you to make sure your child is immunized against disease.

Diseases like polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough are as much of a threat to your child's health today as they were years ago. They're very contagious and can cause serious illness or even death. It's up to you to protect your child against them, and we can help you.

The Ontario Ministry of Health provides vaccines to immunize children against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles, mumps and rubella (German measles).

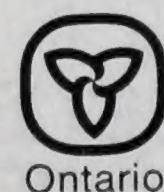

These vaccines are free, and your Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) pays a fee to the doctor for administering them to your child.

If you have children 2 months or over, make sure they're protected. Take them to your family physician now, or have them immunized by your local health unit. And while you're there, find out if you need a booster shot yourself.

It takes more than one visit to have your child immunized completely. To help you remember when to take your child back to the doctor we've prepared a handy pamphlet. It will tell you which diseases your children should be immunized against and at what ages.

The crack of the ball could be heard at the Haliburton Village baseball diamond last Wednesday night when the village's men's recreational softball league got together. The ball just seemed to miss this lucky batter, but the ball itself wasn't so lucky, as the players got the winter kinks out of their batting and catching hands.

Haliburton County Marksmen Club opens new shooting range on Bobcaygeon Road

The blackflies were swarming and the sun was hidden occasionally by storm clouds, but the official opening of the Haliburton County Marksmen Club got off the ground without too many hitches.

Last Sunday afternoon, about 30 rifle and shotgun enthusiasts gathered at the sand pits on Bobcaygeon Road, 2 1/2 miles north of Minden, now being used by the club as their range, to register or try out the range itself.

Following a general meeting of the club, the presentation of the proposed constitution and the election of Doug Tedford as treasurer, Jeffrey Lodenquai, the club's president, turned the microphone over to county warden Jim Harrison. John Eakins, MPP for Victoria/Haliburton and Bill Scott, MP for Victoria/Haliburton, also were on hand to present their thoughts and views on the new club.

The highlight came when Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Since Nesbitt fired the first shot to declare the range open. He fired two shots; one hit the hind quarter of the deer sketch target, and the other was a complete miss. "I haven't done that since I was in the army," Nesbitt admitted after the final round was fired.

Demonstrations in handgun shooting and archery were carried out by Jeff Lodenquai, a former Pan-Am Games competitor, and Bob Emmerson, an accomplished local archer.

Once the preliminaries were over, new members were anxious to try the range out, and marksmen ranging in age from 14 to 40 got involved in the shooting.

Dr. Lodenquai also announced at the meeting that Dr. John Pure, a local dentist, has donated a building which the members will be able to use as a clubhouse. The club, said Dr. Lodenquai, will take possession of the building in mid-August.

An annual general meeting will take place in Minden in November, not withstanding special general meetings which can be convened by the club's officers.

Anyone wishing to join the club is asked to contact Jeff Lodenquai at his residence or office.

HHSS archery team successful at tournament in Lakefield

On Wednesday, May 23, six students from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School travelled to Lakefield to compete with four other schools in the Kawartha Archery tournament. The team had a very successful day as they brought home two sets of team ribbons and one individual ribbon.

The mixed team of Janet Brooks, Kim Dunford, Kelly Young and Richard Van Nood were awarded the third place ribbon. Janet's score of 339 points placed her in fifth position among the 12 girls competing. Richard Van Nood was high scorer for the Haliburton team. His score of 520 gave him eighth position in the individual standings among the 22 boys competing.

The boys' two-man team of Kirk Creelman and Dan Kunzel proved to be the surprise of the tournament. They shot consistently all afternoon against some keen and experienced competition. Kirk's final score was 556, good enough for fifth place overall. Dan totalled 675 points, including one perfect end (all six arrows in the centre gold ring), and captured the third place ribbon. The combined total of these two boys gave Haliburton first place in the boys team competition, and, as a result, the team will advance to C.O.S.S.A. competition on May 31.

Men's recreational softball schedule

Action in the Haliburton men's recreational softball league got underway last week, and will continue regular season play through the second week of August.

George Gibbs (Kevin Brown) and Emily Webb (Susan Dettman) make their vows in the wedding scene of Our Town.

Town, which was put on at the community centre in Kinmount Friday and Saturday night.

Review

Hard work by a large cast pays off as 'Our Town' brings home the message

When the citizens of Kinmount and area presented the play 'Our Town' last Friday and Saturday night, they were acting out roles their ancestors maintained a hundred years ago.

The play, written by well-known playwright Thornton Wilder, takes place on the morning of May 7, 1901 in a small, New Hampshire town called Grover's Corners. And it seemed the more involved the play became, and the more the players warmed to their parts, the more the audience began to associate themselves with days gone by in Kinmount. The smiles and favourable comments about the play afterwards attested to that.

"It reminds me of the time..." was a comment made about the play after the final curtain, and indeed, Our Town succeeded in stirring the thoughts and emotions of everyone familiar with small town life, and even some of those who weren't.

The play is essentially the tale of two decades of life in a close-knit community. The stories were presented by the stage manager, played by an expressive Muriel Nightingale, who introduced the characters as they went through their actions. The two central characters, George Gibbs and Emily Webb, provided the emotional interest throughout the play. The parts were adequately played by Kevin Brown and Susan Dettman.

The stories in the play, which evolve around the lives of George and Emily, come together in the second act, following the introduction of characters in act one. Both George and Emily are young adults in love and the scene culminates in their marriage. The wedding contains elements of sorrow, implying death for the next scene, and abundant happiness, producing a feeling of solemnity and impressiveness.

Suddenly, in act three, the audience is shocked to discover that Emily is now dead, together with other characters the audience has become familiar with throughout the play. It is here that the free staging is utilized efficiently, and with the mourners shrouded in umbrellas over the graveside of Emily, and while the dead are seated facing the audience "in a patience without listlessness," Wilder implies visually the shadow of bereavement and the serenity of death. Susan Dettman as Emily proved that effective acting isn't limited to theatre centres and provided good facial expression and convincing emotion throughout the macabre scene.

Emily wishes to go back into the world of the living, to have one more day on earth, but she is separated from her mother now by an unsurpassable gap in time, and returns to her new relationship with the dead Mrs. Gibbs. The past cannot be relived, and the overriding message of "Our Town" is that living humans, occupied with their small thoughts and petty feelings, really don't know what they're missing in life.

The cast managed to bring home the message, but that was made more difficult due to the inconsistency of the tempo, and occasional lapses of credibility on the part of some of the more important minor characters. Lines were forgotten by key members in the cast, and this had a tendency to create a static atmosphere at some points in the play.

Work on the play began in February and the hard work and perseverance by the stage crew and the players was evident. The most important aspect of the Kinmount production was that the audience enjoyed it. "Our Town" allowed them to remember their younger days, and how lucky they really were then.

HHSS musicians perform concert, many tunes played

Many of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School's best musicians and singers got an opportunity to share their talents with the public Thursday night at a two hour long concert. The performance marked the first opportunity local people have had to see and hear the music students who won honours in a recent Kiwanis music festival at North Hastings Secondary School in Bancroft.

Close to a hundred parents and friends were on hand for the program which opened with the Junior Band, under the direction of HHSS music teacher Melissa Stephens.

Their first number, "Le Sabre" repeated a performance that won the band first spot in the recent festival. Other numbers included "Tomorrow", "Ready to Take a Chance Again", and "How Deep is Your Love".

Members of the Junior band include Christine Kinsman, Sheila Harrison, Veronica Jordan, Jane Hicks and Suzanne Carrell, flutes; Jackie Picard and Eric O'Brien, oboes; Randy Vanderstarren, Mark Creelman, Cathy Darby, Mike Hatoski, Sharon Williams, Jennifer Baker, Craig Saunders, Nancy Shipley, Kathy Mosgrove and Kelly Poole, trumpets; Russell O'Brien, Kelly Leveley, Laurie Sawyer, Andrea Burk, Cheryl Newell, Helen Gervais, Teresa Trepanier, Shelly Bull and Darlene Allison, clarinets; Sean Harrison and Jeff Whitfield, baritones; Ron Yake, Brent Moxam, Andrew Feltham and Anthony VanLieshout, trombones; Jamie Wooden, bassoon; Duff Mitchell and Peter Connolly, tubas; Doug Cross, Joanne Jarrett, Edna McBurney and Ernie Mosgrove, saxophones; and Danny Sanderson, Randy Stephenson, Colin Hore and Tim Pritchard, percussion.

Second in the program was the saxophone quartet of Marina Pearsell, Peter Huess, Lisa Salvatori and Jennifer Sisson. The four drew appreciative applause for their interpretations of "L'Arlesienne" and of "Comedy for Saxophones", the piece which gained them a prize at the Bancroft festival.

Rounding out the first half of the evening's program was the choir, also prize winners at the North Hastings festival, who sang "Morning has Broken", and a medley from the musical "Godspell".

Members of the choir are: Miriam Vanderwal, Laurie Hartin, Jennifer Sisson, Laurie McKnight, Janine Kellett, Shelly Hicks, Joanne Jarrett, Shelly Thompson, Susan Kennedy, Lois MacBrien, Heather Kennedy, Jackie Picard, Jocelyn Kennedy, Janet Mayo, Marina Pearsell, Peter Huess, Alan Cooper, Eric O'Brien, Beth Cooper, and Anne Marie VanLieshout.

Following the intermission, Russell O'Brien, the school's premier soloist in the Bancroft competition, played a clarinet solo entitled "Rondo Simple", accompanied by Melissa Stephens on piano.

Next was the choir, which sang a medley of tunes from

The Brass quintet from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School performed for the public last Thursday night along with a number of other musical groups made up of students at the school. Members of the quintet are, from left, Michael Wright, Anne Marie VanLieshout, Andy Anderson, Andrew Feltham and Steven Wrightman.

Leading the procession were members of the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band. The Festival continues this week.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W. O. Anderson

We did not have a good garden last year or 1977, but will this year thanks to Lee Blair, with two dump trucks, loader, and three truck loads of top soil, all with helpers Mike Fearey and Larry Hughes, giving us four hours of their precious effort without pay. It is incredible but true and now it is hard to thank them enough. We will try to keep you informed this season.

Sometimes international trading have some interesting highlights that are hard to believe and that have no rationale or reason. One may be stated - foreign buyers obtain powdered skim milk from the Canadian Dairy Commission for 26 cents a pound; Canadian buyers pay 81 cents a pound from the same source.

It costs the Canadian Royal mint, 2 cents to coin a Canadian cent and 6 cents to coin each nickel or 5 cent piece. Vending machines - coin laundries, pay phones, parking meters, postage meters, subway turnstiles and last but not least the slot machines, all find it insurmountable if any coin is changed in shape, size, alloy, weight or other, as it is by these characteristics that the machine works, machined down to close tolerances.

At last Canada has another chartered bank to officially open in Toronto, June 4, "The Continental Bank of Canada". Formerly it was a finance corporation known as Industrial Acceptance, whose stock in trade was top financial judgement. They have and will have it.

A curious thing occurs at night after planting the shrubs and bushes; some curious critter paws and digs at the roots. In no case have they done harm to any of the plants. After discussing this we conclude that it or they were attracted to it by a flat of chicken droppings put into each hole in which the shrubs were planted.

Our ambitious ladies have added another craft item to our list of goodies in the form of 15" x 20" pillows stuffed with shredded polyurethane foam. It is planned to have them displayed at our coming bazaar.

With the election over, our country is still Canada, a name still not coined previous to 1534. It was about that time that Jacques Cartier, a noted French gentleman, Governor of New France, surveyor, chronicler and author, was making an official visit at Stadacona, referred to by him as Kanata, the name used by the Huron-Iroquois in their language for "a village community" such as Stadacona (now Quebec City). Soon after Kanata became Canada and soon Canada became the name of our great nation.

Now Joe Clark has entered Canada's history as Prime Minister. The Liberals were defeated but still have great clout in Quebec. The labour intensive N.D.P. party also fared rather badly, probably because Canadians are scared to give labour any more clout. There is a widespread feeling that in the past decade, labour has much abused the privilege they have enjoyed as the sole cause of our excess inflation, by requiring a 10 percent annual hike to infinity. Surely the leaders agree that sooner or later down the road there has to be a turn about in inflation with all the pains and turmoil such a turn-about will bring.

Thursday morning our ladies, Mrs. Maude Weston, Mrs. Edith LaRue, Mrs. Flossie Burk, Mrs. Hazel Parish, Mrs. Ada Denholm, and Mrs. Florence Stagg, with the guidance of Mrs. Pat Burk and Miss Anne Craig, made eight loaves of delicious home-made bread. We are not sure but they probably used sourdough, the old timer's yeast. If they used sourdough, the sample each of us were given was way above par compared to ordinary fresh home-made bread. It was bull's eye calibre.

The election long week and the mixup that often follows, resulted in our missing an issue of The Haliburton Echo and Minden Recorder for which we apologize. It was written but somehow could not get further than to tell about, a visit with us of the pre-kindergarten class of Victoria Street Public School, our birthday party for May, and Fun Night at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, the Friday movies and a visit to us by Capt. Burry and his officers.

Friday's movies showed: 1. Upper Canada Village as it was in 1812, displaying Chrysler's farm, with the people enjoying primitive living and customs.

If we are to believe radio it seems that now in Ontario, because of bilingualism, it is made a criminal offence if a parent does not send his or her children to French classes, if the local school board declares it to be mandatory.

That seems to be rather dictatorial for a Canadian province.

Obituary: Lorne L. Cooper

On Tuesday, May 8, a wonderful friend and relative was lost in the person of Lorne L. Cooper, son of Stan and Elva Cooper. He died suddenly of a heart attack at his property on Kennis Lake.

Born at West Guilford in September of 1921, he lived here until he enlisted in the army at Lindsay where he was part of the 45th Field Battery. After basic training he took a signal course and transferred to the 61st Battery overseas where he saw action in Sicily. He was severely wounded later in Italy and returned after hospitalization there to recuperate at Sunnybrook and Christie Street Hospitals.

In 1953 he married Mildred McNally. Their two children are Cindy and Greg, and in 1970 their household expanded to include Jane Pollard who became another daughter to them.

Lorne's work with Weldwood Westply, formerly Hay & Co., began in 1945 in the office at Redstone. It required him to move to Huntsville, Toronto, Woodstock and finally to Mississauga. His advanced position took him to offices across Canada from time to time.

Family holidays were invariably spent at the beloved (camp) cottage on Little Kennis. Here also he enjoyed the annual hunting season week each November.

Any account of Lorne's life must include his valued churchmanship which had its roots in the Anglican Communion here. It continued into faithful service in the Pentecostal church in Mississauga where he will be sorely missed.

Wherever he went Lorne won the esteem and affection of his fellows. Friends and relatives testified to this as they visited the family citing many incidents when his counsel and friendship had served them well.

Approximately 50 Masons and 20 Legion members honoured Lorne in two significant services on the evening of May 11th at the Welch Funeral Home in Minden.

The funeral service at Maple Lake United Church was conducted by Pastor Alan Sholm of Mississauga on Saturday, May 12 and interment was in the adjoining cemetery.

Monday was a quiet day at Hyland Crest. Because it was a holiday there were no activities, however, everyone enjoyed the relaxation and visiting with their friends and families.

Tuesday morning, Rev. Lorne Schmidt of the Minden Gospel Church gave an inspiring service in our chapel.

After church the residents did their duty and turned out to vote. The polling station was situated in the auditorium which was very convenient, as no one had to leave home to cast their ballot.

Everything got back to normal on Wednesday, when we started off the day with fun and fitness. We sang songs, clapped our hands and kicked the ball to some real toe-tapping music.

In the afternoon the ladies went to the craft room to work on their knitting, and other projects.

The gentlemen went to the auditorium for a game of carpet bowling and then joined the ladies in the craft room for a cup of tea and some goodies. All in all it was a very busy day. Keeping busy is keeping fit.

On Thursday we were happy to have the United Church Women from Tory Hill come for the afternoon tea party. They brought with them a delicious assortment of sandwiches and cookies. We would like to thank these ladies for a very enjoyable time.

In the evening, the Kinsmen Club of Minden turned up as usual to call the numbers for bingo. Everyone looks forward to our weekly

Thursday night bingo, when they have a chance to win tokens which can be cashed in at the tuck shop.

Friday brings to a close another week of activities at Hyland Crest. We began the day with fun and fitness where we exercised our bodies, getting in shape for the weekend.

Later on in the afternoon we were led in a sing-song by Mr. Hargreaves, accompanied by Mr. Fred Ballard. We sang some hymns and a variety of old favourites. So, we end another busy week at Hyland Crest. So long for now until next week.

Broadway shows.

Some of the finest playing of the evening came from the brass quintet of Michael Wright and Steven Wrightman, trumpets; Anne Marie VanLieshout, french horn; Andrew Feltham, trombone; and Andy Anderson, tuba. The five opened with the difficult and familiar tune "The Entertainer" by Scott Joplin, and followed it with "What I Did for Love" and the Chicago tune "Saturday in the Park".

Rounding out the evening on a lively note was the stage band, which delighted the crowd with "Guantanamera", "Just the Way You Are", and "Swingin' Low".

Members of the stage band are: Jocelyn Kennedy, Janine Kellett, Peter Heuss, Marina Pearsell, Lisa Salvatori, Kerry Hodgson, Tom McBurney and Jennifer Sisson, saxophones; Andy Salvatori, Kevin Newell, Ted Pilcher, Margie Newton, Mark Creelman and Nicki Kinsman, trumpets; Steve Bugden and Sandy Wooten, clarinets; Barry Devolin and Ted Brandon, trombones; Jackie Picard and Miriam Vanderwal, piano; and Mike Varty, percussion.

Mystery of the Marble Angel

Authors: John and Nancy Rambeau

by Tricia Atkinson
Grade 4

Setting: In Morgan Bay - old, big, full of houses; I would like to be there to go surfing.

Characters: Hammy with brown hair and about fifteen; Gabby - He is about twelve, has blonde hair and blue eyes and always wears a white sailor hat. Vinny - She is thirteen, has black hair and brown eyes. Bill - He is fifteen with brown hair and eyes. A. J. Holiday - Cannot describe her because she is dead!!!

Plot: I like Gabby because he is planning to find $90,000. It has been hidden by the robbers who have scary voices.

Hammy wants to get an old hearse from Mr. Ellwood to take his surfboard down to the beach. That is when the mystery starts. The kids found traces of the robbers they add everything up and find the answer and the place where the robbers hid the money. This was a scary story because of the places they had to go.

I would change nothing in the story because I think it is well balanced. I would advise my friends to read it because I think they would enjoy it.

The Coboconk Guides and Brownies held their annual banquet recently, and enjoyed a delicious dinner of fried chicken. The local Brownies group has 15 girls and the Guides have six girls. Their very capable leaders are: 'Brown Owl' - Faye Quinn; 'Tawny Owl' - Dorothy Burrows; 'Captain' - Della Howard; and 'Leuit' - Pam Brohm, who work hard to keep the girls busy and the meetings interesting. Guests were June Savory, the Division Commissioner; Ev Bishop, Secretary of the Division and Margaret Dobey, District Commissioner. "Fly Up" exercises were held and enrollment. The girls will be in the Festival of the Arts parade, and later in June will have a camping under canvas weekend at Quinn's Trailer Park campground. Outside activities for the Brownies last year included a tour of Jack Batty's farm; visit from health nurse, Helen Reid, who spoke to the girls; tour of Vicpy factory and a visit to Alvin Gostlin's Maple Sugar bush; and a visit to Dr. Fred Wier's office, the local dentist.

Sympathy of the community goes out to Colin LeCraw and family in the sudden passing of his wife, Shirley. Also, to the family of George Pearce, a life-long Coboconk resident, who recently lived at Victoria Manor.

The long weekend saw the annual crowd of fishing enthusiasts. Even in the most miserable weather, the fishermen endure mosquitos, rain and cold!

Wednesday evening saw a good crowd of auction buffs at the sale of household goods of R. O. Rumney on Grandy Road. I hope you got a good bargain if you were a buyer.

Shirley and Elmer Bowins and girls are busy preparing to build in the Bob Perdue farm, just south of Coboconk. They have sold their home on Lime Street to Pat and Marvin Watson of Norland.

The local community hall is a beehive of activity in preparation for the Festival of the Arts which begins this weekend. There will be something of interest to all ages, beginning today. Many have laboured long and hard to make this event a success, which I'm sure it will be.

Happiness is two long distance calls in one week! I got a call from my pen pal in Newfoundland on Monday evening - and another on Saturday night from my pen pal in Raymond, Washington!

Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel have the bake shop open again, across from the Patti House. They are open on weekends just now and will be open all week, come summer. Fresh baked goodies of all kinds are available and really, isn't that handy, since most ladies do not appreciate baking during the hot weather ahead?

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Nesbitt and family of St. Thomas were weekend visitors of Mrs. Frances Nesbitt.

Jim Puterbaugh of nearby Bexley, is a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital, as is George Callan, a well-known fellow, who lives west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wray of Oshawa were recent visitors of Bob and Jean Callan. It was Mrs. Wray's birthday - and she was a bridesmaid when Jean and Bob were married back some years ago.

Jean and Bob Callan were surprised on the occasion of their birthdays, which are two days apart. Their children, Gary Callan and wife, Audrey from Little Britain, and Gail and hubby Earl Winterburn of Norland, organized and prepared a delicious dinner for their parents and friends. Some 26 people pooled their money to give Jean and Bob a gift of money, and enjoy the dinner with them. They sincerely thank and appreciate their family's thoughtfulness and work of love.

Belonging to any organization means participation and work, and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion are busy this weekend, catering to a wedding. Woman's work is never done!

Red Cross Auxiliary meets

At the May meeting of the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital Auxiliary it was decided that a garage sale would be held again this year. The sale will be on Mr. Steinburg's parking lot, June 2, 1979 at 10 a.m. weather permitting. If anyone has articles which they wish to donate, they may take them to the home of Mrs. Velma Smith before the sale or to the parking lot the morning of the sale.

The Eagle Lake Women's Association gave the Auxiliary a donation to be used towards projects in recognition of the Year of the Child.

A playpen with net sides, and a kindergarten table and chairs set have been purchased for the paediatric ward of the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital. Plans are being made to redecorate the paediatric ward and to put a mural in the labor room at a later date.

The Auxiliary has had a successful year. A cardiac monitor and an infant care centre were purchased for the hospital. A showcase was purchased and installed in the entrance area of the hospital.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

The Guides, Brownies, parents, guests and leaders enjoyed a mother and daughter banquet in Norland Community Hall on Monday, May 14. Brownie enrollment presentations were made to Tanya Richmond, Debbie Martin, Kelly Nicholls and Tracey Bradmore. And Tammy Bryant, Lorri Lyn Liscombe, Michelle and Melissa Crookes, Annie Stewart, Tammy Bradmore, Catrina Guioetto and Tammy Cross all received their gold bar pins. A weaver badge was earned by Kerry Downes who also achieved her fly-up pin as did Anglia Wilm.

Tammy Cross and Kerry Downes have their collector's badges also. For Guides enrollment, Melody Nicholls and Sandra Yeo qualified and Janice Chynoweth was presented with her seven year star, keep fit, baker's and collector's badges. Melody Nicholls received her first year star and keep fit badge and Sandra Yeo a five year star and basket weaver's emblem. A one year star was awarded to Valerie Schell and Julie Stewart a two year star and Candy Yeo a three year star.

Honoured guests at the dinner were Mrs. June Savory, Division Commissioner, Division Secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Bishop and Mrs. Margaret Dobbie, District Commissioner, Leader, Mrs. Fae Quinn, was bestowed with her eight year service pin and camping certificate and leaders, Mrs. Della Howard a seven year service star, Mrs. Pam Brohm a five year service star and Mrs. Dorothy Burrows, her first year service star. Congratulations to all of you for a job well done. These young ladies who are now Brownies and Guides are the next generation who will have a voice in how our country will be run. This training, discipline and background could play an important part in the girls becoming better citizens in the future.

The strawberries will soon be plentiful for all to enjoy. Once again Baddow United Church is having their annual Strawberry Supper. The date to remember and plan to attend is Saturday, June 30. More details later.

I remember that very cold Monday, December 27, 1976, when the township firemen and tanker truck were called to assist in a fire at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Bolsover. It wasn't very long after the badly gutted building was finished smouldering that the congregation were busily raising money to build a new church. Now two and a half years and many dollars later, a week long celebration from June 10 to June 17 is planned to mark the official opening of the new church that has been built very close to the site of the old building. All are invited to the service on Sunday, June 10 at 11:00 a.m. when St. Andrew's minister, Rev. Nancy Cocks will address the congregation and/or at 7:30 p.m. when Rev. Dr. Mackay will be the minister for the service of dedication.

On Sunday, May 20 a very large crowd watched the gala display of fireworks in Ward Memorial Park, arranged through proceeds from the Norland Firefighters Association hockey pool. Several members of the firefighters assisted with the lighting and setting up of the nearly $400.00 worth of Roman candles, sparklers, etc. Many thanks to all who contributed to this colourful and spectacular exhibition enjoyed by children and adults alike.

The hockey play-offs are over for another season. Final winners for this year's hockey pool are Norah Lee on Saturday, May 19 and Laura Middleton on the last night of the series, May 21. May the endeavours of these people continue again next year to provide Norland with another Victoria Day Fireworks Display!

As part of the Victoria County Spring Festival of the Arts, Mrs. Gwen Black and Mr. Ted Garrels will be the special speakers at the Children's Sunday Service in Cobocok Legion Hall on Sunday, May 27. Assisting with the service are Karen Hopkins, Linda Janke, John Sainsbury, Michael Garrels, Heather Shepherd, Tony and Beth Potter, Roddy McDowell, Sari Soikkanen, Joanne Bradmore, Heather Yeo and Ruth Wells. Special music is being supplied by Islington Youth Choir.

A fine of $1500 was levied in Lindsay court on Tuesday, May 15 when the crown withdrew a charge of fraud and Vernon LeCraw, township clerk, pleaded guilty to breach of trust. The charge followed an investigation into the tax and cash records of the municipality between January 1, 1971 and May 1977. When passing the sentence, the judge took into consideration the testimonies of the ten character witnesses who told of the high esteem that they felt for Vern because of the many services that he has performed for years in Norland.

It's nice to see Ray Hall out and about again after being confined indoors for some time since his return from Florida.

For a good tasting warm weather chocolate wafer dessert, try this recipe. Roll fine, 1 package of chocolate wafers. Mix with 1/2 cup of melted margarine saving 1/4 cup of water crumbs for topping. Spread rest of crumbs in greased 6 inch by 10 inch, 2 inch deep dish and press down. Chill. Meanwhile, cook 3 slightly beaten egg yolks, 1/2 cup of sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1 cup of milk in top of a double boiler over hot water until mixture is slightly thickened (about 10 minutes). Remove from heat. Dissolve 1 tablespoon of gelatin in 1/4 cup of warm water, add to egg mixture and cool. Beat 3 egg whites until stiff and fold into cooled egg gelatin mixture. Also fold in 1/2 pint of whipping cream, beaten stiff plus 2 teaspoons of vanilla. Pour over crumbs and sprinkle other 1/4 cup of crumbs on top. Chill and serve cold. Makes 10 large servings.

Stanhope Notes

A. F. Stevenson

Stanhope Airport Committee have plans completed for their Stanhope Fly in and Air show to be held on the weekend of June the ninth and tenth. The event begins on Saturday at which time a number of the participating aircraft and personnel will be arriving to prepare for the flying activities on Sunday.

Flying their specially built aerobatic aircraft, the Canadian Reds from Vancouver will show their skill and daring on Sunday while another part of the show will be provided by a team of parachutists who will also thrill the spectators with their skill in handling their chutes as they attempt their precision landings.

It is hoped that an armed forces aircraft will also be taking part in the Sunday activities but this has yet to be confirmed. On Saturday, refreshments will be available all day as it is anticipated that the public will be on hand in large numbers to see the numerous airplanes arrive. On Saturday, June 9th the Airport Committee will hold a dance which will be attended by the Canadian Reds and also the members of the parachute team.

The tickets for the dance are reasonably priced and the place is the Stanhope Firefighters Hall while the music will be supplied by D/J Tom Young who will also be on the public address system for the airshow on Sunday. His fine work last year added much to the public enjoyment of the event. The beef barbecue will also be a part of Sunday's activities and no doubt will be as much appreciated as in previous occasions. All the committee needs is a big public turnout to make the weekend a success.

Township council and the clerk treasurer are still pondering ways to meet rising costs of education, municipal government and various services without too severe an impact on the taxpayer.

As usual the levy for educational costs has increased quite substantially and, with other labour and material costs up, any thought of avoiding a rather heavy increase in the mill rate would have to be day dreaming. However, the problem is not being taken lightly by any members on council so it may be hoped that any increasing of the tax rate will be in

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Shakespeare once said, "As full of spirit as the month of May, would blow you through and through." After all the wind and rain we have had this past few weeks, now I understand what he meant, I think? Gardens lying in water, wind blowing over your plants; one wonders if the ground will ever dry up enough to plant anything. Last year I had to replant the garden three times, so I was a bit smarter this year; nothing is planted yet. Maybe, just maybe, it will be in by the middle of June. All one can do is wait and see.

Before I forget, here are the birthdays at Hyland Crest Home for the month of June: Isabella Shay 4th, Robert Kernohan 14th, Eleanor Law 16th, Ethel Boice 17th, Ada Lewis, 27th, Agnes Lansfield 27th.

Did you know that 1/2 cup of vinegar added to two quarts of warm soapy water, will make your linoleum floor shine like new?

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dawkins and Beverley of Rexdale visited with Mrs. Ben Harrison on the weekend.

Minden & District Horticultural Society have Dr. Rahmel of Peterborough as the guest speaker at their meeting in the municipal building next Tuesday, June 5, starting at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Rahmel is District Director of the Canadian Rose Society, and will speak on the care of roses. Everyone is welcome to attend these meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Cox and family moved to Peterborough on the weekend. It is sad to see the young people leaving the community, but they have to go where the work is.

Last Thursday was the East Victoria District Annual of the Women's Institute, at Fenelon Falls. Seven ladies attended from the Minden W.I. Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hulbig, Mrs. Bunker, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Sears and Mrs. Cox all reported having an enjoyable day.

Mrs. Dorothy Robinson had a lovely one week visit with her parents at Owen Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rivers and sons of Downsview spent the weekend with Mrs. Arnold Coulter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge of Scarborough spent the weekend at their cottage on the Buckslide Road.

Mr. Glenn Stamp and Glenda of Oshawa visited with relatives over the weekend.

Congratulations to Miss Laura Bird and Mrs. Gwen Hewitt, who were two of the 17 graduates in the nursing assistant course, which was held at Ross Memorial Hospital this past year. The other graduates were from Cameron, Lindsay, Lakefield, Ennisville, Fenelon Falls and Peterborough. Special congratulations to Gwen who won the award in Pediatric Nursing.

The Haliburton County Marksmen Club officially opened their shooting range last Sunday afternoon when Reeve Sinc Nesbitt fired the first shot. Also present were the council members of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

John Eakins, MPP, Wm. Scott, MP and other interested persons.

There was a shower at the Minden United Church last Thursday evening for bride-to-be, Beverley Kimble, at which she received many varied gifts. Beverley very graciously thanked those present for her lovely gifts.

Here is a quick, easy recipe for the week - Bean and Tomato Chowder. 1 can (28 oz.) baked beans; 1 can (28 oz.) tomatoes; 2 tbsp. barbecue sauce; chopped celery and chopped onions may be added to your taste. Heat slowly in fry pan, double boiler or in the oven.

May has been the month of celebrations for the Len Lonsberrys; on May 25th, they celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary (quietly); and on May 28th Len became a 30 year employee of Brewer's Warehousing Co.

It seems that the ban that was imposed in many Ontario provincial parks, from May 1 to June 17 of this year has made the parks a much better place for families to camp out over the weekends. This ban will end in June, but there will still be restrictions after that to which all should pay heed or fines.

The sun is out. My husband is making me a new book case, so I have to pack my books until it is ready for them. There is lots of work to be done. How I hate to be pressured. It reminds me of when I was a child; when the pressure was brought to do something that I did not want to do, I'd grab a book and disappear. The only one who could find me was my father. He found all my hiding places; the hay-mow was a great favourite. Oh well, now I must get to work. Talk to you next week.

Adios and take care now.

Contest to go

The committee in charge of this year's Kawartha Lakes Ontario Open fiddle and step dance contest announced this week that Vince Mountford will once again act as master of ceremonies.

The contest, to be held in Bobcaygeon July 27 and 28, draws top class fiddlers and step dancers from many parts of Ontario and the United States.

Miss Sharon Howard and Miss Valerie Henderson travelled to Chesterville with the school band for a few days last week.

Congratulations to Miss Barbara Adams who took first place in the Junior Girls division in the bowling tournament held in Bancroft on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Griffin and family of Lindsay spent the weekend, camping at the Haliburton Wildlife Reserve.

Mrs. Petra Pequegnat is spending this week in Peterborough, while having her eyes checked.

Miss Betty Barnum will be showing slides and films of the many places she has travelled to, this coming Sunday night at the Gospel Chapel at 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Stamp of Midland visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Adams on Saturday.

West Guilford News

by Fran Crawford

- Intended for last week -

While talking to Ella Gillies and Stan Moore last week, they told me about the fly-in coming up in June. There is going to be men and women parachuters and the Canadian Red's Aerobatic Pilots, who will also be attending the dance at the firehall on the Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Barry visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Val Barry and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jowett.

Mr. Ralph Jowett is home from the hospital and is recovering nicely.

Other visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jowett over the long weekend were Mrs. Kitty Aggett and son Adrian, Mr. Ramon Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jowett of Toronto.

Miss Nora Andrews of Toronto visited with the Mulholland's over the long weekend.

Mrs. Marion Gould of Toronto spent the weekend at her cottage on Green Lake.

Mrs. Marion Johnston of Uxbridge was here for the weekend to clean out her house, as she has sold it and is moving to Uxbridge permanently, but we will see her occasionally, through the summer.

Miss Cynthia Rider of Scarborough visited with

Maple Lake News

by Elaine Barjarow

Maggie Cook has gone to visit her son, Earl and family at Dorian. She plans to stay for at least a month.

Val and Cheryl Redner and family of Gravenhurst spent Saturday with his parents, Earl and Merle Redner.

Mr. Steve Wozniak of Oshawa spent the weekend at his cottage.

Emory and Grace Foster of Toronto spent the weekend at their cottage.

Billy Langman and his mother Merle Cox, spent the weekend at their cottage. Merle hasn't been very well this past winter. We are all very happy to see her feeling well enough to spend the weekend up here.

June and Hank Turgeon of Toronto spent the weekend with her sister, Bert and Pearl Lee.

Merle Cox along with Emory and Grace Foster spent a couple of hours on Sunday visiting with Charlie Fader and Ethel Fader who are both in Extensive care at Haliburton.

On the long holiday weekend, the Barjarow family held a reunion at Cornwall at the home of John and Elva Barjarow. There were 62 members of the family gathered here. Everyone certainly enjoyed the weekend seeing all the new babies and seeing and talking to all the ones we haven't seen for a long time. The family gathered from many places; Haliburton Lake, Vancouver, Carnarvon, Mississauga, Maple Lake, Donald Kingston, Bobcaygeon, Oshawa and Shawbridge, Quebec and of course, John and Elva's family of Cornwall.

John and Bonnie Freeman and daughter of Toronto spent the weekend with her parents, Audrey and Harry Fountain.

THANK YOU

- To the people who gave advice and encouragement during the planning process.

- To Chuck Hicks for his creative carpentry and design.

- To our family, who laboured many hours to enable us to "get it altogether".

- To the many friends and businesses who sent flowers and good wishes for opening day.

- To the people of the community who took the time to look us over during opening week.

Recycle it!

If you work in an office that has a photostat copier using large spool of "tissue" paper, you have a gold mine on your hands! Ask for the next one that is to be thrown out. Here are just a few potential uses.

1. The tissue is great for packing glassware when moving.
2. The tissue can be used in gift boxes as stuffing or as pink gift wrap.
3. You can make air mail paper by cutting it into sheets.

4. Store owners would appreciate a roll for packing china or folding around jewelry.
5. Sheets can be taped to the wall or an easel for the children's crayon artwork.

Junk mail may be unwanted but the sheets with a blank side can be cut into quarters and stapled for memo pads. Or sheets attached to a clipboard by the phone or tacked to a bulletin board are handy for messages or shopping lists.

"Ideals are like stars. You can't touch them with your hands, but like the mariner, you take them as your guides and following them, reach your destination."

We have a new baby in town. On Friday, May 18, Len and Carey Lock became the proud parents of a baby boy, weighing in at six lbs. 12 ounces. The baby's name is Lucas and is a new grandson for Art and Dot Lock and Lorne and Jean Greenaway. Congratulations to all concerned.

The Cancer canvassers who visited you during the month of April would like to thank you for your courtesy and generosity. There were five canvassers involved in the area and a total of $80.50 was turned in to the Cancer Society. We were pleased with the results of our efforts.

I have some sad news to report. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Balkwell have both recently passed away. Mrs. Balkwell in May and her husband a month later. The Balkwells were residents of Windsor but had spent their summers in Dorset and had a cottage on Hollow River. They were well-known in the community, the members of which extend their sympathy to their family.

The Brownies, Guides and Rangers would like to thank all the kind people who supported their cause by buying their cookies. In about two weeks the Rangers are going on a Bike-a-thon and this being the Year of the Child the proceeds will be given to Pueblo, which is a Canadian organization that helps the street children in Costa Rica. The girls will be visiting people to sponsor them.

Don't forget the Variety night at the elementary school on Friday, June 1 at 7 p.m. Another reminder: the final adult immunization clinic will be held on June 7th at the public school.

Kinmount Klippings

Hi folks! Well, I am back again. There were too many Sundays last week and I forgot about my column 'till it was too late.

Sincere sympathy of the community to the Swanton and Anderson families who lost a loved one last weekend. I did not get to see the play "Our Town" put on at the community hall on Friday and Saturday. By all reports I have heard it was really a smashing success. Apparently, we have a lot of acting talent in our town and surrounding area.

Congratulations to Mrs. Dettman in her new store. A week ago Saturday she had a grand opening and served coffee and donuts to all her well wishers. I believe all the children got balloons. I am sorry I did not get this in early enough for last week.

Mrs. Dora Lilley of Norland won the last $50.00 hockey pool at Royal Canadian Legion Branch 441.

Gerald and Gladys Silver, Shawn and Joanne, spent the weekend in Pickering.

Mrs. Grace Simmons of Irondale is getting along very well after her operation and hopefully she will be home early this week.

By the way, Kinmount Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce have new days and hours. They will be open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

The Craft Show will have 52 booths at the arena on Saturday and Sunday, June 2 and 3, 50 cents admission. Come and see while you're putting in time.

That's all for this week. See you next week.

MNR produces two new films to provide nature information

Two new films, which provide the background for proposed changes in the Ontario deer management program, have been produced by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Ministry wildlife management staff said the films not only summarize information reported by the news media during the past year, but give background information and more details of the program so that the public can become more familiar with the proposed changes.

The first film entitled Shadows in the Forest, 18 minutes in length, defines the problems associated with deer management, and then gives the solutions proposed by the ministry.

The second film entitled Habitat Management for White-tailed Deer in Ontario, 15 minutes in length, describes habitat deterioration, habitat requirements for white-tails, some of the corrective actions proposed by the ministry and what the public can do to aid the ministry in improving habitat.

Groups interested in viewing these films should contact the local district office of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

butter and jam sandwich. My wife doesn't eat anything. And leave her a dirty mess in the kitchen to clean up.

Then I'd sail off to school, so happy with life that I'd be gawking around at the wonders of nature and probably run over somebody's beloved dog.

And when I'd got to school, buzzing with ebullience, the kids would likely cheer lustily, instead of rolling their eyes and groaning, when I announced we were going to learn some goody ole grammar.

That cheer would disturb the rest of the school for the whole day, and I'd be on the carpet for upsetting the learning system.

In the teachers' staff room, I'd be a menace. If I shouted at the shuffleboard, "Jolly good shot," or "Well done, sir," instead of the usual "Don't miss. Don't choke. Don't be light," I'd be a moral leper.

If a teacher came up to me, sobbing on my breast about some real or imaginary problem, and I burbled away cheerfully, instead of putting on my phony, grave expression of concern, she'd probably think I'd gone senile overnight.

And if I came home and walked in the door and didn't issue my usual sigh-groan,

Bill Smiley

"Holy Cheese, what a day!"

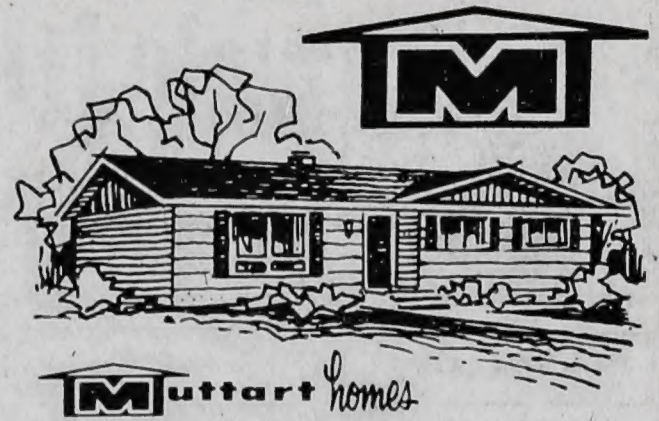

my wife would know I had. This is when I must pick up that evening paper. If I didn't, who knows what wild extravagance my ebullience might lead us into: having somebody in, going out for dinner, attending a movie, making love?

There's no end to the iniquities into which good cheer and jolliness can lead one. Personally, I think people caught singing or whistling to themselves on the street should be locked up. They're liable to start a dangerous trend in this country.

Therefore, as a non-depressant, I couldn't do without the media. They are the only thing that protect me from messing up my life and those of everyone I know by being happy.

I make a deep obeisance to them, with my back turned. That sound you might hear is the breaking of wind. I may be vulgar but I'm happy.

Choose from over 38 floor plans in 2-storey, split-level, split-entry or ranch style, with 2, 3 or 4 bedrooms. There's no down payment and a Muttart mortgage can be repaid in 15 or 20 years. All you need is your own lot and you can build your home quickly and easily from complete, simple instructions supplied.

Village Shoppe" on Oak Street in Haliburton. This brand new ladies' and men's wear store is located in the very tastefully renovated ground floor of a former home adjacent to Newbatt Appliances just off the main street. Julie and Larry Hartin are the proprietors of this new business and Larry is also a new addition to the Curry Motors sales staff.

On main street, Mark Brohm has completely renovated the interior of his establishment which is identified as Mark's Coffee Shop. The shop is set up with a self-serve counter to provide fast and economical service amid clean and comfortable surroundings. We noted that a large window affords a beautiful view overlooking Head Lake and Mark suggested he has been considering expanding out into a patio area in that corner.

Larry Medley obviously sensed that much of Mark's former clientele would be looking for new outlets. He has renovated the old bake shop down by the park into a Penny Arcade. He will also be installing his instant T-shirt machine in that location. This should be a popular spot this summer.

Mary Jane Irwin worked last year with the late Norm Hobbs as a riding instructor. Since Norm's passing and the closing of Blue Ridge Riding Stables, Mary Jane has opened her own establishment at Rockwood Farm on the Scotch Line Road near Minden. She is providing top-notch riding instruction following in the tradition that was established by Blue Ridge.

To all these folks, we wish them much success in their new endeavours and urge you to drop in and do likewise.
